

Vienna Catchment Science Symposium, Saturday 9th April, 2011

On the Theme of Process Interactions and Synthesis

Time	Session	Location
8:30	Tea, coffee, pastries and greetings	3 rd Floor Foyer
9:15	Welcome and Introduction Günter Blöschl, Vienna University of Technology, Austria	Kuppelsaal
9:30	The soil is not enough: the importance of runoff and rock moisture in near-surface fractured bedrock Bill Dietrich, University of California, Berkeley, USA	Kuppelsaal
10:30	Tea and coffee	3 rd Floor Foyer
11:00	Landscape and stream network influences on the sources of catchment runoff and solute signatures Brian L. McGlynn, Montana State University, USA	Kuppelsaal
12:00	Process hypotheses and multiple sources of information: a statistical perspective George Kuczera, University of Newcastle, Australia	Kuppelsaal
13:00	Lunch	3 rd Floor Foyer
14:00	Laplace's Demon and Dooge's Laws: Why hydrology is more than water running downhill Ciaran Harman, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA	Kuppelsaal
15:00	Tea, coffee and pastries	3 rd Floor Foyer
15:30	Small Group Discussion Sessions
	Group 1: Landscape-climate human interactions Moderator: Bill Dietrich	Kuppelsaal
	Group 2: Landscape-climate human interactions Moderator: George Kuczera	Seminarraum 222 (3 rd floor, follow signs)
	Group 3: Landscape-climate human interactions Moderator: Siva Sivapalan	Seminarraum 212 (3 rd floor, follow signs)
17:30	Plenum: Exchange of group findings	Kuppelsaal
18:00	Evening drinks reception	3 rd Floor Foyer
19:00	Dinner	3 rd Floor Foyer
